

SNOHOMISH COMMUNITY PROFILE

Snohomish is a city rich in history and deeply committed to both the idea and the practice of building a strong community. In Snohomish you'll find a community that has committed itself to some extraordinary projects--both privately and publicly funded. Through hard work and planning, the visions of our citizens are turned into realities. The Riverfront Trail project, construction of the Visitor Information Center, and the completion of our section of the Centennial Trail system are some of our most recent major projects. We also have a beautiful new Senior Center, and a nationally-recognized, award-winning library serving our community.

Amongst the many activities to enjoy, you can take a tour of the historic downtown and browse its interesting shops, including more than 400 antique dealers that truly make Snohomish the “antique capitol of the northwest”. Take time to enjoy the many other wonderful offerings of our small city—fine restaurants, excellent overnight accommodations, diverse shops, historic homes and beautiful parks.

Snohomish is a place where community pride abounds, but most of all Snohomish is a friendly community that loves to share its gifts with visitors. Our historic downtown, parks, trails and rivers are open to everyone. Appreciate it all by visiting soon... you'll find yourself welcomed with open arms.
